Meeting Notes – Nov. 3rd, 2021 by Randall Taylor, photos by Jodi R / Jill M

President Janice began the meeting with the national anthem, led by Rod Mont.

Guests: Naomi Bailey, who is the manager of indigenous protocol at VIU and Zel Hopson, formerly of Nanaimo Family Life and now operating a home support service for seniors. Naomi's start with Rotary was as an exchange student.

Rotary Moment: Donna A remembered projects, events, and fellowships over the past two decades, and the legacy of Rotary around Nanaimo. Donna also honored club members who have passed on.

President Janice presented a video in support of Rotary Foundation month entitled Celebrate Giving, Rotary Foundation information can be found on the R.I. website; <https://www.rotary.org/en/about-rotary/rotary-foundation>. President Janice also encouraged all club members to sign up for Rotary Direct (donations) on the R.I. website. Our club goal this year is to donate $4,000. (CAD) to the Annual Fund, with the hope that we will have full club participation which will support our grant applications in coming years. The club is also working on a Public Image and Membership grant.

Announcements:

Denise Larson is looking for a volunteer (s) to help collect the books from our book-box at Southgate Shopping Centre. The work is picking up the books from the book-box and delivering them to Literacy Nanaimo. Contact Denise or Doug Lum to volunteer.

Save the dates May 13 & 14, 2022 for the District Conference in Victoria. This will be an in-person conference.

Jill Mont says that COVID has affected the planned community service events. We do have the community asking for our help; Island Crisis Care, Haven House, and the upcoming Christmas Families charity. Christmas Families donations are to be new items, (not used). The club will start collecting items at our November 9th meeting. The club website has a list of asked-for items. Either items can be brought to our Wednesday meetings or funds can be provided to Jill who will arrange for the appropriate items to be purchased.

Presentation:

Jill Mont provided a "classification talk". The talk was titled "pivotal Moments in the Life and Time of Jill Mont". A title well-chosen for this rollicking tale of western settlement and family, tribulations and triumph, personal development and Jill's years in many institutions, which lead to her many successes.

Jill is the product of homesteading grandparents from Scotland who settled on the Kananaskis slopes in Alberta and great community leaders of North Battleford, Saskatchewan. Jill still leans of the legacy of her grandparents when challenging students to live up to the fabled accomplishments of "my dead grandmother".

Jill grew up in Edmonton, gaining several university degrees in electronics, music, education, and a master's degree. This was accomplished while raising three young daughters.

Jill's early teaching included the daunting feat of producing musical theater which continued into her teaching career in the Nanaimo School District.

Jill and Rod share six children in total. They love to travel, here on the Island on bikes or kayaks, or around the world.

Jill says that she and Rod are guided by the question, "What can we do to make a difference, now that we have time and resources?" Rotary fills this desire for participation and community.

Final notes:

50/50 was won by Jodi Rogers

Sergeant at Arms Sher levied no fines this week. Happy Bucks were collected, and Daryl K paid twice one in coffee and donuts, then in funds for not knowing that he is Sergeant next week.

Anna has a contact starting a house cleaning business. Contact Anna if you are looking for this service.

Dawne Anderson is looking for volunteers to help with the Salvation Army kettles starting soon. The Salvation Army is also selling box lunches as a fundraising effort. Contact Dawne for info or to volunteer.

That done, we recited the Four Way Test and said our goodbyes.
